"I just had my first reading with Ron, and it was literally mind blowing. It felt like I was just chatting with a friend. He was so open and very calming. I adore his personality as well; he's so funny! I cant wait to read with him again as, hopefully, his predictions pan out. Thanks for the great advice!"

"Ron was very easy to talk to and helpful. I would like to have a more in depth reading with him very soon in regards to my loved ones. So if that's possible please let me know. Ron gave me satisfaction that I was on the right track with life and he was also able to see that I was going in circles with a few things as well, I will definitely give Ron a call in the near future, and I appreciate your service and honesty."

November 3, 2015

Thank you so much for the kind words, Teniecia! Yes it's possible to have more readings with me. When you're ready, you can schedule yourself as you have already done through my website, www.ronsspiritualreadings.com, and click on the "Book Us Online" button :-)

Looking forward to do your next insightful reading!

"I've had two readings with Ron thus far, and others I have recommended him to have also been very satisfied.

He uses a practical, spirit-led approach, utilizing tarot cards as a basis for divination.

There are a lot of gifted people out there who offer services similar to Ron's, and I have had experience with readings in many different forms and from different spiritual traditions, but there are a few reason why I would choose Ron over other readers as a "go-to" person when I really need more insight on something in particular.

Firstly, he is accurate. During both readings I experienced moments of him being spot-on and moments where things didn't seem to make sense or seemed off. I always take notes during readings, and when I went back the next day after my first reading and read over them I saw that he was in fact correct in his assessments- things just hadn't clicked right away at the time. As far as future events, I've already been able to check off a few things which have come to pass.

Another thing is timing. Some readers are very accurate and specific, but the events they predict and things they are able to see are on a widely variable timeline. While no one can tell you exactly when something is going to happen, Ron doesn't deal in far-flung, amorphous predictions. He seems to be very good with the here and now, and immediate to relatively near future.

His style is great. He's just a really nice guy in general, which comes through immediately, and he reads from a place of compassion, and a genuine desire to help people. He is kind and down to earth, but also very direct and honest.

Finally, I really like that he gives advice or "homework." It's never judgmental or "telling you what to do" from a holier than thou place- rather, he gives practical suggestions based on what he sees and what your desired outcomes are. This advice can be very empowering if you are open to it- I've already followed his suggestions in regards to a couple of things, and they have been very helpful. To be clear, this isn't the typical advice that a friend might give- it comes from a special kind of insight (and I can attest to this because during my first reading I was very general in my questions, not giving background, and it was he who was able to pull all the details out on his own).

All in all, Ron is really a wonderful resource, and if you can go into the experience with an open mind and heart (and are willing to reflect and let things sink in even after the reading is finished, and do your "homework"), I can guarantee you'll have a satisfying experience."

I'm so humbled. Thank you so much for the kind words. As you know I give credit to Spirit yet on His behalf thank you for acknowledging these messages from Him through me to you. As I utter the clarity and insight you seek you hear them as the 'revelations' you needed to hear at that point in time during your reading. thank you again for this kind review.

"Wow, I am blown away by my first reading with Ron. He tapped into so many happenings in my outer and inner world with staggering precision. Moreover, he gave me very clear, tangible tools for addressing the issues that arose in the reading. It was a to-the-point, grounded in the real world, "this is what is happening" reading but delivered in a language of mysticism and magic that as a spiritual seeker, I really crave. I think a good spiritual reader shows you your circumstances and energy around you but reminds you that at the end of the day, you are in your own power and have the ability to steer your own ship as best you can. I love his style. Have already sent a friend to him who is as equally a happy customer as I."

Thank you so much, Julie, for the kind words. I give credit to Spirit for enabling and inspiring to relay these insights to you. Thank you for allowing these revelations to unfold and for having great faith in me and Spirit to reveal what you needed to know at that point in time. :-)

"I just finished a review with Ron. I'll be honest in my review.

- 1) He tries honestly to help you through his reading.
- 2) He's gracious with his time. He gave me some extra time, without extra charge.
- 3) From my intuition, he's correct about the woman I've recently been with, what he said crossed my mind too, however couldn't validate. His reading helps me in that.
- 4) Professional and personal life reading, for which I gave him nearly 15 minutes: his starting was generic with may be a bit relation to what's going on now. His future predictions: I've to wait to see.

But thank you!"

Thank you so much for your honesty, Susovan and thank you for your kind review.

"I had a past life reading with Ron. It was my first time meeting Ron, my first tarot card reading and my first past life reading. I had few expectations and wasn't even sure why I felt I needed this reading.

I immediately felt comfortable with Ron, he has a kind, gentle, sincere and generous nature. The evening was delightful and interesting, exploring how the chosen past life related to my current life, and I appreciated this new perspective. Much information resonated with my self knowledge and he shed light on some unexplored corners. It also became clear why I needed that reading just then.

The reading branched in a number of different directions, it was fascinating how Ron was able to read those cards and make so much sense. I was able to ask questions along the way and help guide the reading to areas that interested me. I am still learning new things now as I listen to the recording of the session, and I realize how much more I wish to learn through Ron!"

Gitte it was such a pleasure and a privilege to have met you and for allowing me to read for you. I thank Spirit for making it possible for you to be able receive these spiritual messages which you needed to hear at that point in time. Thank you for the kind words.

Ron was able describe my relationship with my husband to a T. I do very much admire my husband and he does support me returning to school. We have an aura of pure love around us - I think this made me the happiest out of the whole reading. :D

I would highly recommend Ron to anyone looking for spiritual advise. Thank you so much, Ron!

"I signed up for this reading as a blank slate-I've never had a reading done and came into the experience expecting nothing. To say that I was blown away would be an understatement. Ron and I talked about things I have been mulling over for awhile but have never told anyone. He intuitively knew what I was mental struggling with and offered some real insight and understanding. We had an immediate insight into my life and I could feel the connection and insight he had. The reading really helped "reset and reaffirm" the path I am taking and I can't speak highly enough of the experience. I am now a believer!"

"I've been meaning to leave Ron an amazing review for some time now after my experience with him but as each day passed I've found that everything he had said, even the most unbelievable things to be coming true. Normally I'd wait a little longer to give a full description as to how amazingly accurate he is but time for me is of the essence. I apologize now for this may get lengthy and I intend to sum most of this up but just in case, I want others to be fully aware of how great his ability is.

I'd love nothing more than to burden everyone with my long story (we had a 1.5hr session) and explain in detail how everything he said floored me due to his incredible ability to hit the nail on the head but for this review I'm going to discuss the things he spoke of that I truly didn't understand or see coming. A little bit about myself, I'm a 33 yo registered nurse and mother of 3. I work an incredibly difficult work schedule that would shock even the hardest workers. Ron had pointed that out and asked if I may be in some financial trouble. I could see how that could be taken that way with my schedule but I ensured him I was financially stable and explained to him why I was working the hours/shifts that I was. Islam explained how I've been looking for another position due to this. He did assure me that he saw orthopedics in my future. I won't lie, I proly made the most disgusted look Anyones ever seen. Ortho? Not for me! Lol I'm a psych nurse and thrive for anything critical care related so I've been progressing towards emergency room care. Still, he wouldn't let it go that he seen me in something ortho related. This reading all took place while vacationing with my children and I never dreamt I'd even think of having a reading but my oldest suggested it out of nowhere. And so I did my homework and contacted Ron as he had the best reviews. Let's fast forward to the NOW... It's been 2 weeks since our talk and I've already seen so many things come to light that he'd said would but this one with my job, (him seeing me in ortho) was by far the most unbelievable so I'm dedicating this review to just that one tiny topic. It's now 2 weeks later, I went back to work but not for long. I was in fact turned down for the ER job but just as he suggested, I keep pursuing it. This past Friday I went for my normal run and all was well. Saturday I woke up and headed into work. I was stiff but contributed that to my run. The pain became unbearable and I had to leave work. I haven't been back since. I dealt with excruciating pain in my lower back the remainder of the weekend. I was unable to even walk. My brother came to care for me and took me to see my doctor. She ran tests and it turns out I've found his correlation with ortho. I'm not the nurse on the ortho floor but currently the patient. X-rays came back horrendous and I'm scheduled for an MRI on Tuesday. The pain is unbearable and at times I think of how being paralyzed would possibly lessen the pain. I get angry and I scream and cry when I'm home alone bc it's the only time I can allow myself to break down without my children seeing the pain. But today after I got so angry and wondered what I did to deserve this I found myself laughing. I remembered Ron telling me not to give up and no matter what, he saw me in ortho. Well, I can't believe that this is the end of my career but what I can believe is that I know enough about the spine and ortho to make it a career. I'm positive that I'll recover one way or another and I'll be back in the game to help others. He also spoke of my mother whom I haven't had contact with in years and he said I wouldn't for a few more years yet. But something I didn't share with him about her and I were the fact that she also has tremendous ortho issues. So bad in fact that it's caused her to become a very mean person, abusive even. So I wonder to myself.... Am I living the same pain my mother is and has her whole adult life so I can sympathize a tiny bit with her? It's going to take a whole lot more than pain to understand her abusive ways. But is this the turning point in my life? Is this the road I must go down to change my career path in life and to be better suited to make amends with the mother I truly have no desire to communicate with? So I'm currently where he said He saw me. Financially unstable and in ortho. He also spoke of Arche angel michael and how he's been watching over me which made me jump(literally). The reason being.... For the past 2years I've been trying to get back into my drawings as a form of tension release. The part that makes what he said so UNREAL is the fact that all I've been able to draw is Michael the Arche angel!! Idk why. It's not like I have a picture of him around my house, I'm not religious even, and I couldn't tell you even why I choose michael to draw but I did, several times!

There's so much more I could share but I just want to get my point across to who ever is out there looking at reviews, trying to gauge if he's credible, to know that he's worth way for than the $55 I paid for 1.5 hrs. I also HIGHLY recommend paying the extra $10 for the DVD of the conversation so that you can go back and listen to it all over again. Trust me-you'll forget 75%of what he's said because you'll be so blown away by what he's telling you.

Ron, thank you so much for everything. Idk why I contacted you but I did and I'm grateful. I hope to be speaking to you again soon as I'd love to hear some brightening news to my declining medical condition. Best of luck. HUGSxoxo

Lynn"

"My boyfriend and I found Ron through google and we are really happy that we did! Since this was our first tarot card reading ever, we wanted it to be just right and after seeing the reviews for Ron being outstanding, we knew he was the one to go to.

First I will talk about booking the appointment. We booked at the last minute and Ron was very flexible about fitting us in. I thought we had to wait a few days to get a reading but he actually managed to fit us in on the same day which was really great!

Ron also agreed to do multiple readings for me, my boyfriend, and my boyfriend's sister; just as long as we were ok with the wait for each person.

Upon arriving to our appointment, Ron truly made us feel welcomed. I will admit, I was a bit nervous since I had no idea what to expect from this kind of session but he greeted us with open arms. If there is anything I liked most about Ron is that he had such a great sense of humor which made all of us feel comfortable.

August 16, 2015

During the session, I was first to get a reading, and the first thing Ron told me that was on point, is that I liked to be alone and I truly do. It's been like this for years, and it was amazing how he said it so unexpectedly. He also brought up a sensitive topic regarding my mom who had just recently relapsed with alcohol. He confirmed her state of depression and disappointment with my father and told me that although I may want to distant myself from her, it's my life purpose to support her. These are the exact thoughts I have been contemplating these past few days and it was great to have some clarity on it!

He was also able to confirm that where my profession is concerned, which is blogging, that I feel at times like I'm going in circles which is very true yet he told me that blogging is my calling so I can help others. He also told me that one day I will publish a book. This shocked me because I actually am writing a book right now. Although it is not done yet, my intentions are to publish it within the year!

Overall, my reading with Ron, along with my boyfriend and his sister, was very insightful and accurate. I never felt rushed, or pressured into agreeing with something he said and because of this, we will definitely be returning for more readings! I am glad we decided to go with him for our first reading.

Our reading took nearly 3-4 hours and at times I worried that we were taking up his time, but Ron made us feel comfortable throughout the entire process. He also gave us a group discount which was wonderful and completely unexpected!

I truly recommend seeing Ron. He is very professional with his work, accurate as well, and truly has a gift that has left me inspired. We will definitely be returning for future readings!"

Thank you so much, Sarah for all these kind words. It was my pleasure to have been able to read for all of you. I look forward to reading for all you again!

"I seldom leave reviews unless I'm truly impressed with something. Where do i begin on the incredible reading i received from Ron! He has an amazing personality and puts you at ease immediately. I truly felt as if i were speaking to a friend ive know for many years! He was dead on with my self awareness and emotional issues im currently battling. He knew of my upcoming trip next week. He was correct in describing my mother, her addiction, and the fact that we haven't spoken in 2 years. Even hers and my brothers zodiac signs. He was accurate with things he saw in my marriage, that only my husband and i know about! He described my 10 yr old's personality to a "T" and the kind of relationship we have. My highlight of that reading would be the messages i received from loved ones that had passed on. The first was my son whom i lost to miscarriage nearly 11 years ago. (Ron and I both got goose bumps at the same time) He spoke of a promise i had broken to myself about finishing school. He was right again, i never received my GED because my daughter was born the weekend i was scheduled to take the test! I now feel closer to a child i never had the privilege of knowing. The second person whom i literally screamed at in my head and willed to come to me was my grand father. I was so worried i wouldn't hear from him. This is the man who raised me, who instilled manners and amazing values into me. Who taught me to stand up for myself, fish, ride horses, always keep my word, and love with a fierceness. (I have tears typing this) I stayed by his side and took care of him until he passed when i was 15. Its been 14 years now and my heart still aches for him. More than anything i needed to know that i had made him proud with what ive done and accomplished in my life so far. A question that has haunted me for years! And something my parents refuse to tell me. The relief from hearing that message from him is indescribable! I needed that, more than anything.

THANK YOU RON! Thank you for all you did for me. Thank you for putting my mind at ease.

Thank you for connecting me with my grand father and son. You worked amazingly with me and im forever grateful for you. I wish you all the best. I promise i will be back!

P.S. I had the perfect opportunity to be spontaneous yesterday. We went to a Sushi house! It was pretty good too. Im sure my husband is secretly thanking you for that one! lol"

Thank you so much Shannon for sharing all this. Thank you so much for taking the time to write down your feelings and experiences that pertain to your reading. Thanks you so much for the kind words. And you're very welcome!!

"Ron is incredibly well-attuned to the querent's energy levels and is very compassionate in delivering his spiritual readings. One of the things that makes Ron such an impressive reader is that he not only provides interpretations of the cards, but ideas for how to implement them. When Ron read for me, I felt as though I was both receiving advice from the tarot and from a life coach or counselor. He has a real psychological aspect that he employs which I found to be extraordinarily helpful. Additionally, while Ron conducted my reading over the phone, I could sense a real connection even through that medium, and was amazed by his level of intuition -- when we were not even in the same room! Ron is someone whom I felt comfortable with immediately, and I would certainly trust him again to read my cards and provide insights on my life. Thank you, Ron!"

Thank you Sharon for the opportunity. I only say what I see and strive not to hold anything back even if I don't understand it--but I figured my clients would be able to relate to them if I can't. All I know is you heard what you need to hear at that point in time. Thanks again for reaching out to me.

"I feel like I've made a new friend :) I thoroughly enjoyed every minute of my one and a half hour session with Ron. Right off the bat he talked about people in my life in a very accurate way. We just scratched the surface of my curiosity in that reading and will be scheduling another one soon. I feel like I'm operating on a higher level of awareness since the reading a few nights ago. Jill"

We definitely connected right from the very beginning as if I've known you for years! Spirit never ceases to surprise me. You are more than welcome to come back for more spiritual insight. Truly enjoyed your reading like most of my clients.

Need psychic reading

Thank you for the opportunity, Venice. I should have encouraged you to purchase the 1.5 hour reading versus the 30 minute reading that you requested. Squeezing in an 'AfterLife Communication', prediction based questions, and a general reading all within 30 minutes was just way too short of a period of time to adequately connect with Spirit and deliver the detailed spiritual insight that you rightfully deserve. I felt rushed and pressured which was my fault not yours--lesson learned. If you wish, I would like to offer you another reading, a free reading, for 1.5 hours on me. :-)

"I just had my reading with Ron and he is such a nice guy. It was on a touchy subject and he really knew how to help me relax and understand what he was picking up. He even made a prediction another psychic predicted as well..."

April 23, 2015

Though some things weren't on the dot, he was pretty accurate and I'd recommend him to anybody. Overall really nice guy I will keep his advice in my mind in regards to what I asked about for sure.

Thank you Ron!"

Thank you, Jeremy for this great review! It was a pleasure doing your reading and thank you for choosing me. Please don't hesitate to reach out to me again. :-)

Need a Psychic Reader

"I have just had my 1st reading with Ron, He made me feel relaxed and secure. Ron is very good at what he does. I never felt rushed and he took his time explaining, the messages he was receiving for me. I was very impressed with his service. That my friend and I have made another appt for another reading. I would recommend. Ron. He is an excellent spiritualist. Sue and Donna."

April 9, 2015

Thank you so much, Susan for your review. I totally appreciate it. And I'm also thankful to Spirit for leading you both to me and for allowing your loved ones to step forward during the reading and deliver their messages to you both.

"I've never had a reading before and I'm pleased my first one was with Ron. At first, I was excited and nervous but we immediately had a connection and I Ron made sure I was comfortable, relaxed and in he right state of mind before we began.

He was definitely on point with his reading and really opened my eyes and heart to what I've been going through. He provided information and plans only I would know about.

He is compassionate, professional and truly has a wonderful gift."

April 2, 2015

Thank you so much for the kind words. It was an honor and a privilege for allowing me to do your reading. May Spirit shine upon you and bless you, Christie!

"I thought I would only need the first 30 minutes, but we ending up speaking for 2 whole hours! So much accurate information... it was his first time reading animals and he did my 3 dogs and 2 horses and he couldn't have been more spot on with them. I can't say enough about my reading between hearing from my dad, getting more insight on my relationships and finding out I have a spirit guide who is an old friend of my mom's is just amazing. Thank you Ron!"

March 18, 2015

Thank you, Amanda for your kind and encouraging words. I'm just happy that Spirit was able to assist you with your personal life, your beloved animals, and being able to channel your dad's spirit.
