Hello Ron....Good Morning to you and Daniel. I wanted to come by your Facebook page and leave a copy of my review from our reading yesterday evening. Exposure on both your website and here will afford me the opportunity to share my experience with you, as well as others. 😊

My Review is as follows:

For what seems like an eternity....but in actuality has been a period of about 7 years....I have been truly in an almost constant state of (inner) conflict. Living with a body and a mind that had functioned very well as a cohesive unit (for 45 yrs.) and was now suddenly, utterly, and completely at odds with one another. I had put forth what I thought was my best effort to make peace with my new life. Having even gone through somewhat of a mourning process....saying goodbye to the life I had once lived, knowing that it really was gone, forever. I went through, what I believed were the various stages of grief and came out on the other end as "settled" as I believed that I ever would be. With my new life as a person with multiple chronic diseases I often found myself at the mercy of physicians and other health care providers of whom administered countless medications but did little else to address the disconnect between my body and my mind. As the years went on I saw the cruel advancement of my diseases take hold of my body....and subsequently my entire existence. For the past year I have been unable to drive a car or read a book. Cataracts so severe, a byproduct of the extensive steroid therapy.....and so began my slippery slide down in to the dark grips of depression....and, sadly, an "agoraphobic" was born. I rarely leave the house and when I have to prepare to go out I experience extreme anxiety and out and out "fear". I would manage to get out and make it to my destination....usually a doctor's appointment....but, the entire time I am out away from my home I am nervous, terrified (of everything and anything) and count the seconds until I am able to get back to the "perceived " safety of my house. During my reading with Ron last night I was offered acknowledgements, validations, and overwhelming support for all that I experience and endure. Ron's messages for me were richly enlightening and filled with a positive energy that impacted me greatly. For the first time in many years I was able to step outside of myself and my circumstances to get a much clearer view of not only where I had been, but more importantly, where I am going. Ron was more in tune with "me" than I had been with myself in years. My reading included suggestions as to ways of which I could achieve a more comfortable spirit within myself, and gain an edge with regard to my chronic pain. The reading was casual in nature...creating a level of comfort and ease....yet all the while professionalism was paramount. I would, again and again, recommend Ron to anyone who is looking for guidance and reachable conclusions. The answers are yours for the asking...you need only listen carefully to the messages that you are being given....the answers lie within.

Thank you Ron, with my deepest appreciation I am now and will remain forever grateful to you.
